

DIAL-OGUE: Stanford University

Early Wednesday afternoon, Mr. Killingsworth, University Communications Supervisor, informed the ASSU Student Financial Manager that the A3M would have a phone installed at x4637 either that afternoon or the following (Thursday) morning. Later in the afternoon, an A3M member was told that installation may take as long as 8 days. We expect a phone to be installed at x4637 by noon, Thursday. If it is not, a red flag will be flown above the Dome. This is the signal to play Dial-ogue.

If you are at a University extension, dial 9 and get a dial tone. You now control an outgoing line. Next, dial 321-2300. You now also control an incoming line. The University operator will now say, "Stanford University." Ask for the extension of your choice. If that line is busy, either wait or ring some other extension or tell her you will hold until that line is available. When you finally get through to another University extension, you will control a third line. If you dial 9 and get a busy signal, then the outgoing lines are already tied up. Dial a university extension directly. If someone you would like to call is not listed, ask the kindly university operator for that person's extension. She will be glad to assist you.

Here are some extensions you might try. Sample questions are included for your consideration.

Communications

4386 Oley Killingsworth Comm. Supvr., in charge of phones
