

WE NEED YOUR HELP!

The April Third Movement is now two months old. After its inception a large group of people formed and have been able to maintain a community designed to change our environment. The basis of our community was a set of demands which served as the first step toward implementing some of those changes.

We have met with limited success: death-related research at AEL was stopped for ten days, classified research was banished from Stanford, and William "Old Crow" Rambo has realized that he cannot continue his research here. Yet we have also seen the Board of Trustees flagrantly disregard the attitudes of the April Third Movement, students, and faculty by planning to sell SRI. We fought to devalue SRI in order to prevent its eventual sale, and that struggle will continue.

We have fought with petitions, with words, and even with rational dialogue. We have fought with our bodies, and we have fought in the streets.

During the summer some of us will return home and perhaps carry the struggle there; some of us will remain here. And as the Establishment takes notice of our effectiveness more of us will be forced to waste our time fighting in the courts. To date 33 of our friends have been arrested--usually on ludicrous or trumped up charges that can be beaten in court. It was only bad luck that these 33 were arrested. It could have been any of us.

To help us win this legal battle, several lawyers have generously offered their help. The cost of the investigation and of defending our friends, however, is mounting. The estimates for legal fees that would normally be charged for continuing this struggle are between $30,000 and $50,000.

Our legal people are our friends, but we have to feed them and their families.

We need your help, and we need your money.

This money will be utilized to cover our legal expenses, and also some of the administrative costs and debts incurred by the April Third Movement. (Unlike the money loaned for the Bail Fund, these contributions cannot be returned at a later date.)

We are hoping for a minimum donation of $10 from each one of our supporters--but if you can possibly give more, please do. Any contributions, however, will be greatly appreciated.

I can give/pledge $_____ to the April Third Movement for legal and administrative expenses. Please make checks payable to the "April Third Movement."
(Regrettably, contributions are not tax-deductible.)
