

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

The April 3rd Movement does not want SRI to be sold. We have talked to SRI employees about resisting sale. Now we must talk to prospective buyers to convince them not to buy.

We are running the following ad in the Wall Street Journal:

SRI A BAD RISK

A recent cost-benefit analysis has found that due to the unstable investment climate created by the insurgent activities on the Stanford campus, and in view of the extreme likelihood that such activities will continue, purchase of the Stanford Research Institute (SRI) would entail serious risk and would prove to be highly unprofitable. While market conditions remain in such an uncertain state, prospective buyers should reject any consideration of purchase of SRI.

The ad costs $163.80. If you -- or anyone you know -- can afford to pay all -- or part -- of this cost, please contact Rissa White at the Clubhouse on the Stanford Campus.
