

WAR IS HELL IS WAR IS HELL IS WAR

Stanford University, be prepared for disappointment. We are involved in it, now--hopelessly. War is certainly Hell, and that's the problem. We can strike, demonstrate, burn, destroy or drop out or anything. But don't be expecting wars to stop. They won't. In fact opposition to war is breeding war which is breeding war---and it's escalating. Why is it that nobody listens? Nobody wants people to die, but they're crying, brother. Believe that it's going to get worse no matter how hard we try to stop it. Do you see anybody listening?

Death is being caused by dead people. People dead in their greed, in their pride, in their need to oppress others to gain more for themselves. Save your face, man, no matter what it costs. The only thing that's going to stop war is a kind of life that will transform the dead insides of people. Jesus Christ claimed to be the way, the truth, and the life. He offers us an alternative to greed and selfishness and war.

Do you hate those things? So does God. They cost him the life of his son. The thing is, he's done something real about it.
