INTERNSHIPS FOR SUMMER ACTION

Money may soon be available from several sources to fund full- and part-time summer internships with the Stanford Medical Community for Peace. The amount of each stipend will vary, depending on individual need, but a strong attempt will be made to make them competitive with summer research grants and similar opportunities.

Applicants should submit their names and a one paragraph summary of pertinent past and current activities to the Nerve Center, room M127, as soon as possible. Questions may be directed to Dr. Richard Almond.

ADVERTISING FOR A BETTER SOCIETY

A new advertising agency pledging 20 percent of its time and talent to fight war, racism, waste, and poverty is opening this month in San Francisco. An ad in the May 25 issue of TIME maintains that the "best creative and managerial talent today is determined to take some part in helping with the great social problems of our time." The new company believes that "a company that can offer both creative and moral opportunity... will attract the best talent in advertising."

At present the agency wants consumer accounts and, without fee or commission, an anti-war account, an anti-racism account, and anti-waste account, and an anti-poverty account. The company is the Maxwell Arnold Agency.

LABOR COUNCILS - ANTIWAR RESOLUTIONS

Three area Central Labor Councils have passed resolutions opposing the Southeast Asian war. The Alameda County CLC resolution calls for repeal of the Gulf of Tonkin Resolution, passage of the Hatfield-McGovern bill, and censure of President Nixon for "his election, dishonesty, and violation of our Constitution." The Santa Clara County CLC and the Contra Costa County CLC have adopted similar resolutions.

Copies of the resolutions are to be sent to the State Labor Federation, AFL-CIO President George Meany, congressman Don Edwards and Charles Gubser and President Nixon.

SILENCE IN THE COURTYARD

May 1970

-A Reflection-

Kent State - shock and outrage, fully felt and expressed. Augusta and Jackson - numbly unfelt, in uneasy silence. One noon, in the Medical School courtyard, a resolution introduced to express for the second time in a week "our rage and sorrow"; but the silence, and hesitation over part of the resolution, could be felt in the courtyard; questions and reservations, "let us wait till we know the facts". The resolution was accepted, but the silence was there to be heard; still, the appalling silence of good men.
