

THE AXON

MONDAY
June 22, 1970

...direct from the NERVE CENTER, M127, (321-1200, Ext. 6210)

LABOR - STUDENT SYMPOSIUM

Students and labor will jointly discuss the problems affecting both groups that are caused by the war in Southeast Asia and their solutions at a conference in the Physics Lecture Room, Rm. 100, on June 27. The event is being cosponsored by the Santa Clara Central Trades and Labor Council and the Stanford Medical Community for Peace.

Some of the problems which the participants will consider are our deep involvement in a costly war in the Far East, the conversion of the U. S. economy to a wartime economy, the increasingly tough fight of labor unions over wages merely to stay even with the losses caused by inflation, and the turmoil among students and at universities over national goals and priorities.

The morning session will hear the following speeches:

"The War in Southeast Asia",
Harris Martin, assistant professor of Asian Studies at San Jose State.

"The Impact of the War on the Economy", Douglas Korty, research economist at the Pacific Studies Center.

"The War and Organized Labor",
Einar Mohn, western director of the Teamsters Union.

A panel discussion, "The University and the War", will feature panelists Dwight Simpson, professor of political science at San Francisco State; Alan S. Manne, professor of economics at Stanford; Norma Goodman, student in political science; and Art Carter, secretary-treasurer of the Contra Costa Central Trades and Labor Council.

Afternoon workshops will attack problems centering around the impact of the war on health care services, political strategies and tactics, conversion to a peacetime economy, and a labor-student coalition for a progressive society. Participants will include Halsted Holman, chairman of the Department of Medicine; Sidney Roger, labor commentator for KPFA; Richard Groulx, executive secretary of Alameda CTC; Leo Stodolsky, physicist at SLAC; Tim Coburn, graduate student; James P. McLoughlin, secretary of Santa Clara CTC; and Gary Feldman, medical student.

(continued in Column 2)

For further information call 329-8130 or 329-0640.

"VIETNAM AND BEYOND"

--a new film narrated by David Shoenbrun will be shown in the Forum Room of Meyer Undergraduate Library, Tuesday, June 23, at NOON and again at 7:00 pm. Shoenbrun is former CBS Southeast Asia correspondent.

MARQUETTE FACULTY ADOPT RESOLUTION

A resolution signed by 68 faculty members of Marquette School of Medicine, Milwaukee, Wisconsin, calls for "immediate cessation of all aggressive action" and urges Congress and the administration to withdraw forces "as quickly as transportation can be arranged"

They state, "We do not pretend to be military experts, and we are not evaluating military strategy or the possibility of successful 'Vietnamization'...We are convinced that our country is not accomplishing any of the traditional ideals of the United States and that our government is in reality following an immoral policy of seeking political and economic advantages by military means."

The statement, sent to President Nixon and Wisconsin Senators and Representatives, is one of many which have come from medical groups in recent weeks.