

PROPOSALS FOR ACTION

Why of course the people don't want war...But after all, it is the leaders of the country who determine the policy, and it is always a simple matter to drag the people along, whether it is a democracy, or a fascist dictatorship, or a parliament, or a communist dictatorship. Voice or no voice, the people can always be brought to the bidding of the leaders. That is easy. All you have to do is tell them that they are being attacked, and denounce the pacifists for lack of patriotism and exposing the country to danger. It works the same in every country.

--Hermann Goering

In contrast to the establishment, we must become more and more life-centered and love-directed not death-oriented or hatred-motivated.

--Dave Dellinger